

ECP Water Channel

Innovative Drainage Channel

The ECP Water Channel has been designed and manufactured to relieve hydrostatic pressure build up and gives water a pathway to enter the drainage system from the wall. It allows the water seeping into a basement, through the cold joint or cracks in the wall, a place to enter the drainage system. Water Channel is a key component of the ECP interior waterproofing drain system and is easy to install on a new building or a retro-fit job. ECP Vapor Barrier can be used on block wall and poured wall applications, in conjunction with the Water Track, to keep the system sealed so that no water vapor can escape back into the basement.

Benefits

- Easy installation
- Durable
- Large dimples prevent clogs
- Allows high water volume
- Helps prevent cracking in floors
- Protects cold joint when in place

ECP Water Channel Drain Board

ECP Water Channel is an interior basement floor drainage system for new construction and retrofitting that creates a pathway for water between the wall and the under slab drainage system. The unique design gives added strength to the channel to prevent collapsing and warping along the wall and footing and creates a thermal break between the footing and slab. Cup shaped indentions will allow the floor to rest on the footing and allow water to move across the footing freely. It also allows the floor to expand and contract freely which reduces cracks in floors. Used in conjunction with a proper interior drain piping system and sump basin, it will eliminate any probability of hydrostatic pressure occurring under the floor. Manufactured transparent for visual inspection to ensure system isn't clogged before concrete pour.

Properties:

- Comes in 6' sections
- Pieces are 8.5" wide
- 35 mils thick
- Made from 50% recycled materials
- Transparent for visual inspection
